

MONK

ANDY BRECKMAN

Production Biography

Andy Breckman serves as executive producer and writer on the sixth season of the USA Network original series MONK, which premieres Friday, July 13, 2007 at 9:00PM/8:00 Central.

Breckman started writing comedy full-time in 1982 as part of the original staff of Late Night with David Letterman. He worked for Saturday Night Live for several seasons, contributing many memorable sketches, including the one where Eddie Murphy went around as a white guy and "Japanese Game Show" with Chris Farley and Mike Meyers.

His feature screenplays include Moving, L.Q., Sgt. Bilko and most recently, Rat Race, which was directed by Jerry Zucker.

Breckman's television credits include Comedy Central's TV Funhouse and the 2003 Academy Awards with Steve Martin.

For the last 15 years, Breckman has co-hosted a weekly radio show on WFMU in Jersey City called Seven Second Delay.

Breckman has five children and lives in New Jersey with his wife, documentary producer Beth Landau.

He has trouble making friends.

###

Contacts:
Kristin Schulman
Andrea Epstein

212.664.4140
818.777.6679

kristin.schulman@nbcuni.com
andrea.epstein@nbcuni.com

